The Conference Committee Amendment for House Bill 5129, relating to the Department of Revenue, updates Florida law to bring the Child Support Enforcement Program in compliance with new federal regulations for establishing, modifying, and enforcing health insurance obligations in Title IV-D child support enforcement cases. The bill defines “health insurance” as coverage under a fee-for-service arrangement, health maintenance organization, or preferred provider organization, and other types of coverage available to either parent, under which medical services could be provided to a dependent child. This is defined by the federal Office of Child Support Enforcement. Compliance with the new regulation is a Title IV-D State Plan requirement and a condition of the state receiving federal funding. Noncompliance could result in disapproval of Florida’s plan, and the loss of approximately $248.1 million in federal funding.
